

The Fight (Reprise)

Clifford Enobun

Sometimes it feels like you're losing it
Falling back to that old self
Going down that familiar path again
Just when you thought you were over it
You ask yourself what's happening
You think you've lost it finally
You feel ashamed to approach Him
I'm here to tell you that
He wants to reason with you, He feels your pains
He sees your weakness and He knows your needs
He's ready to help and hold you close
This battle has been won
Are you listening to the devil's comments about you (lies about you)
That your salvation isn't genuine (not genuine)
That living right isn't possible
Why should you?
There's no condemnation for those in Jesus
You've been truly set free by His grace
So brighten up to this reality
And embrace your victory
FIGHTING
HOLD ON TRUST YOU
HE'LL BRING YOU OUT
VICTORY
